| RM068 Viva Voce 2.00 hours | 1. Elvedin PAŠIĆ | Previously testified before the Tribunal: Brđanin case: 14 July 2003 Krajišnik case: 20-21 October 2004 Background information: Elvedin PAŠIĆ was born in 1978 and was 14 in 1992, at the time of the events he will speak about. He will describe the destruction and wilful damage of residential property, attacks on villages, the persecution of non-Serbs, beatings, killings and the brutal and inhumane conditions at the Grabovica school detention facility. The witness lived in the village of Hrvaćani. He describes the Army of Republika Srpska preparations especially around the village of Dabovci. His village was shelled and the villagers fled to Plitska and other surrounding villages, on the way they had to avoid the shooting from the snipers. The witness will testify that five elderly villagers remained in the village and were killed. He describes the attempts by villagers to protect themselves and the generally terrible conditions. He will testify that refugees from attacked villages were moving from one place to another. In October 1992 all refugees from Hrvaćani were instructed to move to Večići, but they had to get travel documents first from the Bosnian Serb authorities in Vrbanjci. After 4 days in Večići he left with a group of fighters together with women and children. They were ambushed and during the fighting many men were killed. They surrendered and were detained in the Grabovica School. He describes beatings by the Bosnian Serb soldiers. The men of fighting age were separated from women and children; the men remained at the school and have never seen again. The witness was allowed to leave as he was regarded as a child. They were put onto buses after being beaten by civilians who lined the route to the buses. They went first to Vrbanjci where they gathered with other buses boarded with refugees from the surrounding villages and were transported to Travnik. |

| | | Slobodan Milošević case: 18 September and 5 November 2003 Dragomir Milošević case: 15 and 16 January 2007 Karadžić case: 6-11 May 2010 Background information: David HARLAND was Civil Affairs Officer and Political Advisor to UNPROFOR from June 1993 until the end of the conflict. He remained in Sarajevo, with the UN until 1999. He frequently participated in meetings with leaders, including Karadžić and Mladić. He participated in negotiations concerning, among other things, freedom of movement for civilians and UNPROFOR and restoration of essential services to Sarajevo. Harland was the principal political drafter from UNPROFOR and Sarajevo from 1993 to 1995 and was therefore responsible for drafting of special reports and the weekly political assessments, as well as the text of certain agreements. He will therefore authenticate, comment on and contextualize weekly political assessments during this period, as well as other relevant UNPROFOR documentation. Harland also drafted the UN Secretary General's 1997 report regarding Srebrenica. Harland will testify about conditions in Sarajevo between 1993 and 1995. On average 1,000 shells were landing per day, with significant lulls during the 1994 cease-fire. He will also testify that the goal of Karadžić and other members of Bosnian Serb leadership was to redistribute the population of Bosnia and Herzegovina so that the Serbs would be left in control of a single continuous block of territory embracing the whole of the border with Montenegro and Serbia and also including all of the traditionally Serb-inhabited areas. He will also testify about the relationship between Mladić and Karadžić. He met Mladić about twenty times between 1993 and 1995. |
| RM350 Rule 92 ter 1.50 | 3. Christina SCHMITZ | Previously testified before the Tribunal: Karadžić case: 26 March 2012 Background information: Christina SCHMITZ was a Field-Coordinator in a project in Srebrenica. She was a nurse employed by Médecins Sans Frontières (MSF). She provides evidence about the shelling near the column heading towards Potočari and the conditions in Potočari. She will also describe her meeting with Mladić. |

| | | Background information: Lieutenant Colonel KINGORI was a United Nations Military Observer (UNMO) who was present in Srebrenica between March 1995 and July 1995. He provides evidence that in June 1995 Colonel Vuković asked him what the United Nations' response would be to the VRS takeover of Srebrenica and the expulsion of its population. The witness will provide evidence regarding the deportation/forcible transfer of Muslims from Srebrenica. Kingori is uniquely capable of providing evidence of the VRS intention, formed at least in early June, to take the Srebrenica enclave and expel the population. Kingori also witnessed the VRS advance on Srebrenica, the shelling of the enclave, the conditions in Srebrenica, the traumatic separation of Muslim male refugees from other refugees at Potočari, and the segregation of those men in the White House opposite the UNPROFOR base. Kingori protested to Mladić about the overcrowded conditions in the White House. Mladić told him that as far as he was concerned, the people were comfortable and prevented Kingori from entering the White House. Kingori also witnessed the movement of all refugees by bus, including the separate movement of Muslim male refugees. He said that the Muslim men were terrified that they would be killed by the Bosnian Serbs. |

He will provide evidence of Muslim refugees arriving at the UN compound in Potočari and his conversation with Mladić in which he said that he intended to evacuate the refugees and that there would be trouble if the Dutch did not cooperate. The witness will testify about city buses arriving outside the compound and how the Muslim women and children were loaded onto the buses by Bosnian Serb soldiers and taken towards Bratunac. At the same time, a large number of Muslim men were being held in a white house while all of their personal belongings wer stacked outside. He will also testify that on 13 July a new group of Bosnian Serb soldiers arrived at the compound and resumed loading prisoners onto buses. That same day Koster accompanied Johannes Rutten to a meadow by a small river west of the UN compound where he saw nine dead bodies dressed in civilian clothing and all had a gunshot wounds in the middle of the back. |

He identifies the rifles, scopes and ammunition used by the VRS forces and describes the use of these and other sniping weapons and ammunition, in particular regarding the deployment, purpose and the effects of sniping fire. The expert will also make observations on scheduled incidents within the indictment period. He will provide an introduction to the technical and practical aspects of sniping. He will talk about military rules of engagement as applied to sniping. Strict rules of engagement will require that the target be positively identified as a combatant for the sniper to be allowed to shoot. According Mr. van der Weijden, when a sniper shoots it is always a deliberate attack with the intention to kill or wound the enemy. The witness also emphasizes the psychological impact of sniper fire. The use of sniper fire induces a feeling of never being safe from the enemy, of not knowing where or exactly when the sniper will strike. In each incident considered by the witness, he considers the weapon likely to have been used, and the information available to the shooter which would have been relevant to determining whether the person targeted constituted a legitimate target. In none of the instances considered by Mr. van der Weijden does he conclude that the information available to those discharging the shots was sufficient to identify the targets as combatants. |
