- 17. The accused planned, instigated, ordered, committed, or otherwise aided and abetted in the planning, preparation, or execution of these crimes. For the modes of liability of planning, instigating or ordering the crimes charged, the accused acted with the awareness of the substantial likelihood that the crimes would be committed in the execution of the plan, order or instigation. For the mode of liability of aiding and abetting, the accused acted with the knowledge that the acts performed would assist in the commission of the crimes.
- 18. By using the word "committed" in this indictment, the Prosecutor does not intend to suggest that any of the accused physically perpetrated any of the crimes charged, personally. "Committing" in this indictment, when used in relation to the accused, refers to participation in a joint criminal enterprise as a co-perpetrator, either directly or indirectly.
- 19. The purpose of this joint criminal enterprise was, inter alia, the modification of the ethnic balance in Kosovo in order to ensure continued Serbian control over the province. This purpose was to be achieved by criminal means consisting of a widespread or systematic campaign of terror and violence that included deportations, murders, forcible transfers and persecutions directed at the Kosovo Albanian population during the Indictment period. To fulfil this purpose, each of the accused, acting individually and/or in concert with each other and others, contributed to the joint criminal enterprise using the de jure and de facto powers available to him.
- This joint criminal enterprise came into existence no later than October 20. 1998 and continued throughout the time period when the crimes alleged in Counts 1 to 5 of this indictment occurred: beginning on or about 1 January 1999 and continuing until 20 June 1999. Each of the accused and other participants in the joint criminal enterprise further shared the intent and state of mind required for the commission of each of the crimes charged in counts 1 to 5. In addition to the deliberate destruction of property owned by Kosovo Albanian civilians, forces of the FRY and Serbia committed widespread or systematic acts of brutality and violence against Kosovo Albanian civilians in order to perpetuate the climate of fear, create chaos and a pervading fear for life. Forces of the FRY and Serbia went from village to village and, in the towns and cities, from area to area, threatening and expelling the Kosovo Albanian population. Kosovo Albanians were frequently intimidated, assaulted or killed in public view to enforce the departure of their families and neighbours. Many Kosovo Albanians who were not directly forcibly expelled from their communities fled as a result of the climate of terror created by the widespread or systematic beatings, harassment, sexual assaults, unlawful arrests, killings, shelling and looting carried out across the province. - 28. Thousands of Kosovo Albanians who fled their homes as a result of the conduct of the forces of the FRY and Serbia and the deliberate climate of terror that pervaded the territory of Kosovo joined convoys of persons that moved toward Kosovo's borders with Albania and Macedonia. Along the routes to the border crossings, forces of the FRY and Serbia manned checkpoints where the displaced Kosovo Albanians were subject to further beatings, extortion, robbery, harassment, assaults, illegal arrests and killings. At other times, forces of the FRY and Serbia escorted groups of expelled Kosovo Albanians to the borders. By these methods, the forces of the FRY and Serbia maintained control over the movement of displaced Kosovo Albanians to the borders. Displaced Kosovo Albanians often arrived at the borders of Kosovo on foot in convoys of several thousand persons, or carried by tractors, trailers and trucks, as well as on trains, buses or trucks which were organised and provided by forces of the FRY and Serbia.
- 29. In addition, thousands of Kosovo Albanians who fled their homes and were thereby forcibly transferred as a result of the conduct of the forces of the FRY and Serbia and the deliberate climate of terror that pervaded the territory of Kosovo, were forced to seek shelter for days, weeks or months in other towns and villages, and/or in forests and mountains throughout the province. Some of these internally displaced persons remained inside the province of Kosovo throughout the time period relevant to this indictment and many persons died as a consequence of the harsh weather conditions, insufficient food, inadequate medical attention and exhaustion. Others eventually crossed over one of the Kosovo borders into Albania, Macedonia, Montenegro, or crossed the provincial boundary between Kosovo and Serbia. Forces of the FRY and Serbia controlled and coordinated the movements of many internally displaced Kosovo Albanians until they were finally expelled from Kosovo.
- 30. Throughout Kosovo, in a deliberate and widespread or systematic effort to deter expelled Kosovo Albanians from returning to their homes, forces of the FRY and Serbia looted and pillaged the personal and commercial property belonging to Kosovo Albanians. Forces of the FRY and Serbia used wholesale searches, threats of force, and acts of violence to rob Kosovo Albanians of money and valuables, and in a widespread or systematic manner, authorities at FRY border posts stole personal vehicles and other property from Kosovo Albanians being deported from the province.
- 31. In addition, throughout Kosovo, forces of the FRY and Serbia systematically seized and destroyed the personal identity documents and licenses of vehicles belonging to Kosovo Albanian civilians. As Kosovo Albanians were forced from their homes and directed towards Kosovo's borders, they were subjected to demands to surrender identity documents at selected points en route to border crossings and at border crossings into Albania, and Macedonia. These actions were undertaken in order to erase any record of the deported Kosovo Albanians' presence in Kosovo and to deny them the right to return to their homes.
- 32. The crimes perpetrated in each of the municipalities and locations set forth below in paragraphs 71-77 followed a clear pattern and were perpetrated by forces of the FRY and Serbia working in co-ordination and co-operation and performing complementary roles in order to achieve the common purpose.

To facilitate these expulsions and displacements, forces of the

FRY and Serbia deliberately created an atmosphere of fear and oppression through the use of force, threats of force and acts of violence, as described above in paragraphs 25-32. Throughout Kosovo, forces of the FRY and Serbia systematically shelled towns and villages, burned homes and farms, damaged and destroyed Kosovo Albanian cultural and religious institutions, murdered Kosovo Albanian civilians and other persons taking no active part in the hostilities, and sexually assaulted Kosovo Albanian women. These actions were undertaken in all areas of Kosovo, and these deliberate means and methods were used throughout the province, including the following municipalities:

- a. Orahovac/Rahovec: On the morning of 25 March 1999, forces of the FRY and Serbia surrounded the village of Celina/Celinë with tanks and armoured vehicles. After shelling the village, forces of the FRY and Serbia entered the village and systematically looted and pillaged everything of value from the houses, set houses and shops on fire and destroyed the old mosque. Most of the Kosovo Albanian villagers had fled to a nearby forest before the army and police arrived. On 28 March 1999, forces of the FRY and Serbia forced the thousands of people hiding in the forest to come out. The men were separated from the women and were beaten, robbed, and all of their identity documents were taken from them. The men were then marched to Prizren and eventually forced to go to Albania.
- On 25 March 1999, a large group of Kosovo Albanians went to a mountain near the village of Nogavac/Nagavc, also in Orahovac/Rahovec municipality, seeking safety from attacks on nearby villages. Forces of the FRY and Serbia surrounded them and on the following day, ordered the 8,000 people who had sought shelter on the mountain to leave. The Kosovo Albanians were forced to go to a nearby school and then they were forcibly dispersed into nearby villages. After three or four days, forces of the FRY and Serbia entered the villages, went from house to house and ordered people out. Eventually, they were forced back into houses and told not to leave. On 2 April 1999, forces of the FRY and Serbia started shelling the villages, killing a number of people who had been sleeping in tractors and cars. Those who survived headed for the Albanian border. When the villagers arrived at the border, all their identification papers were taken from them. In the course of the expulsions, throughout the entire municipality of Orahovac/Rahovec, forces of the FRY and Serbia systematically burned houses, shops, cultural monuments and religious sites belonging to Kosovo Albanians. Several mosques were destroyed, including the mosques of Bela Crkva/Bellacërkvë, Brestovac/Brestovc, Velika Kruša/Krushë e Madhe and others.
- b. Prizren: On 25 March 1999 the village of Pirane was surrounded by forces of the FRY and Serbia, tanks and various military vehicles. The village was shelled and a number of the residents were killed. Thereafter, forces of the FRY and Serbia entered the village and burned the houses of Kosovo Albanians. After the attack, the remaining villagers left Pirane and went to surrounding villages. In the town of Landovica/Landovice, an old mosque was burned and heavily damaged by forces of the FRY and Serbia. Some of the Kosovo Albanians fleeing toward Srbica/Serbica were killed or wounded by snipers. Forces of the FRY and Serbia then launched an offensive in the Kosovo Albanian villagers were forced from their homes and sent to the Albanian border. From 28 March 1999, in the city of Prizren, forces of the FRY and Serbia went from house to house, ordering Kosovo Albanian residents to leave. They were forced to join convoys of vehicles and persons travelling on foot to the Albanian border. En route, members of the forces of the FRY and Serbia beat and killed Kosovo Albanian men, separated Kosovo Albanian women from the convoy and sexually assaulted the women. Many of the houses, shops and mosques were destroyed, including the mosque in the centre of the village of Cirez/Qirez. Some women and children were taken away by members of the forces of the FRY and Serbia and held in a barn in Cirez/Oirez. The women were subjected to sexual assault, and their money and property were stolen. At least eight of the women were killed after being sexually assaulted, and their bodies were thrown into three wells in the village of Cirez/Qirez. On or about 28 March 1999, at least 4,500 Kosovo Albanians from these villages gathered in the village of Izbica/Izbicë where members of the forces of the FRY and Serbia demanded money from these Kosovo Albanians and separated the men from the women and children. A large number of the men were then killed. The women and children were forcibly moved as a group towards Klina/Klinë, Dakovica/Giakovë and eventually to the Albanian border.

During the following days, police officers went from house to house, threatening, assaulting and killing Kosovo Albanian residents, and removing many of the people from their homes at gunpoint. Many houses and shops belonging to Kosovo Albanians were set on fire and a mosque in Suva Reka/Suharekë was damaged. The women, children and elderly were sent away by the police and then a number of the men were killed by the forces of the FRY and Serbia. Once the people reached the centre of town, those without cars or vehicles were forced to get on buses or trucks and were driven to the town of Prizren and then on towards the Albania border. - Kosovska Mitrovica/Mitrovicë: Beginning on or about 25 March 1999 and continuing through the middle of April 1999, forces of the FRY and Serbia began moving systematically through the town of Kosovska Mitrovica/Mitrovicë. They entered the homes of Kosovo Albanians and ordered the residents to leave their houses at once and go to the bus station. Some houses were set on fire, forcing the residents to flee to other parts of the town. At least one of the mosques of the town was burned and damaged. Over a three-week period the forces of the FRY and Serbia continued to expel the Kosovo Albanian residents of the town. During this period, properties belonging to Kosovo Albanians were destroyed, Kosovo Albanians were robbed of money, vehicles, and other valuables, and Kosovo Albanian women were sexually assaulted. A similar pattern was repeated in other villages in the Kosovska Mitrovica/Mitrovice municipality, where forces of the FRY and Serbia forced Kosovo Albanians from their homes and destroyed the villages. The Kosovo Albanian residents of the municipality were forced to join convoys going to the Albanian border via the towns of Srbica/Skenderaj, Pec/Pejë, Đakovica/Giakovë and Prizren. En route to the border, forces of the FRY and Serbia officers robbed them of valuables and seized their identity documents, and the strain of the control of the con
- Pristina/Prishtinë: Beginning on or about 24 March 1999 and continuing through the end of May 1999, forces of the FRY and Serbia went to the homes of Kosovo Albanians in the city of Pristina/Prishtine and forced the residents to leave. During the course of these forced expulsions, a number of people were killed. Many of those forced from their homes went directly to the train station, while others sought shelter in nearby neighbourhoods. Hundreds of ethnic Albanians, guided by Serb police at all the intersections, gathered at the train station and then were loaded onto overcrowded trains or buses. Those on the trains went as far as Deneral Janković/Hani i Elezit, a village near the Macedonian border. On the way to the border many people had their identification papers taken from them. After getting off the trains, forces of the FRY and Serbia told the Kosovo Albanians to walk along the tracks into Macedonia since the surrounding land had been mined. Those who tried to hide in Priština/Prishtinë were eventually expelled in a similar fashion. During the course of these forced expulsions, a number of people were killed and several women were sexually assaulted. To the state of the first of the state of th

- Đakovica/Gjakovë: By March 1999, the population of the town of h. Dakovica/Giakovë had increased significantly due to the large number of internally displaced persons who fled their villages to escape deliberate shelling by forces of the FRY and Serbia during 1998, and to escape the armed conflict between these forces and members of the Kosovo Liberation Army. The continual movement of these internally displaced persons increased after 24 1999 when, following violent expulsions in the town of Dakovica/Gjakovë, many internally displaced persons returned from the town of Đakovica/Gjakovë to the outlying villages, only to be expelled from these villages again by forces of the FRY and Serbia. Those forces controlled and coordinated the movement of these internally displaced persons as they travelled from these villages to and from the town of Dakovica/Gjakovë, and finally to the border between Kosovo and the Republic of Albania. Persons travelling on foot were sent from the town of Dakovica/Gjakovë directly toward one of several border crossings. Persons travelling in motor vehicles were routed first towards the town of Prizren before approaching the border and crossing into the Republic of Albania.
- From on or about 24 March 1999 through 11 May 1999, forces of the (i): FRY and Serbia began forcing residents of the town Dakovica/Gjakovë to leave. Forces of the FRY and Serbia spread out through the town and went from house to house ordering Kosovo Albanians from their homes. In some instances, people were killed, and many persons were threatened with death. Many of the houses and shops belonging to Kosovo Albanians were set on fire, while those belonging to Serbs were protected. On 24 March 1999, the old mosque in Rogovo/Rogovë and the old historic quarter of Dakovica/Gjakovë. which included the bazaar, the Hadum Mosque and adjoining Islamic Library, were among the several cultural sites substantially and/or totally destroyed. During the period from 2 to 4 April 1999, thousands of Kosovo Albanians living in the town of Dakovica/Gjakovë and neighbouring villages joined a large convoy, either on foot or driving in cars, trucks and tractors, and moved to the border with Albania. Forces of the FRY and Serbia directed those fleeing along pre-arranged routes, and at checkpoints along the way most Kosovo Albanians had their identification papers and license plates seized by the forces of the FRY and Serbia. In some instances, Yugoslav army trucks were used to transport persons to the border with Albania.
- (ii) In addition, during late March and April 1999, forces of the FRY and Serbia forcibly expelled the Kosovo Albanian residents of many villages in the Đakovica/Gjakovë municipality, including the villages of Dobroš/Dobrosh, Korenica/Korenicë and Meja/Mejë. Many of these residents were subsequently ordered or permitted to return to their communities, only to be expelled again by forces of the FRY and Serbia. On or about the early morning hours of 27 April 1999, forces of the FRY and Serbia launched a massive attack against the Carragois,

Throughout the entire day, villagers under direct threat from the forces of the FRY and Serbia left their homes and joined several convoys of refugees using tractors, horse carts and cars and eventually crossed into Albania. Forces of the FRY and Serbia confiscated the identity documents of many of the Kosovo Albanians before they crossed the border.

- Gnjilane/Gjilan: Forces of the FRY and Serbia entered the town of i. Prilepnica/Përlepnicë on or about 6 April 1999, and ordered residents to leave. The townspeople left and tried to go to another village but forces of the FRY On 13 April 1999, residents of and Serbia turned them back. Prilepnica/Përlepnicë were again informed that the town had to be evacuated by the following day. The next morning, Kosovo Albanians left in a convoy of approximately 500 vehicles. Shortly after they left, the houses in Prilepnica/Përlepnicë were set on fire by forces of the FRY and Serbia. Throughout the entire municipality of Gnjlane/Gjilan, forces of the FRY and Serbia systematically burned and destroyed houses, shops, cultural monuments and religious sites belonging to Kosovo Albanians, including a mosque in Vlaštica/Vlastica. Kosovo Albanians in other villages in Gnjilane/Gjilan municipality were also forced from their homes. Thousands of displaced persons from villages such as Žegra/Zhegër, Nosalie/Nosalë Vladovo/Lladovë sought shelter in the village of Donja Stubla/Stubëlle E Poshtme, located in the Vitina municipality. Other Kosovo Albanians from Varoš Selo/Varosh and Mirosavlje/Mirosalë fled their villages as the forces of the FRY and Serbia entered. After the residents left their homes, the soldiers and policemen burned the houses. The displaced persons went to the town of Uroševac/Ferizaj, where most boarded trains which carried them to the Macedonia border crossing at Deneral Jankovic/Hani i Elezit. Forces of the FRY and Serbia directed the train passengers to walk on the railroad tracks to the border. Others travelled in convoys from Uroševac/Ferizaj to the same border crossing. - On or about 25 March 1999, forces of the FRY and Serbia attacked the villages of Mala Kruša/Krusë e Vogël and Velika Kruša/Krushë e Mahde (Orahovac/Rahovec municipality). The villagers of Mala Kruša/Krusë e Vogel took refuge in a forested area outside Mala Kruša/Krusë e Vogel, where they were able to observe the forces of the FRY and Serbia systematically looting and burning their houses. The villagers subsequently took refuge in the house of Sedie Batusha, which is located on the outskirts of Mala Kruša/Krusë e Vogel. During the morning of 26 March 1999, forces of the FRY and Serbia located the villagers. The forces of the FRY and Serbia ordered the women and small children to leave the area and go to Albania. The forces of the FRY and Serbia detained and searched the men and boys and confiscated their identity documents and valuables. Subsequently, the forces of the FRY and Serbia ordered the men and boys, under threat of death, to walk to an unoccupied house in Mala Kruša/Krusë e Vogel. The forces of the FRY and Serbia forced the men and boys to enter the house. When the men and boys were assembled inside, the forces of the FRY and Serbia opened fire with machine guns on the group. Men were separated from women and children and six members of the family were killed. The remaining family members were herded towards a coffee shop by forces of the FRY and Serbia. Those family members were herded, along with three extended BERISHA family groups, into the coffee shop. Forces of the FRY and Serbia then opened fire on the persons inside. Explosives were also thrown into the shop. At least 44 civilians were killed and others seriously wounded during this action. The bodies of the victims were placed in the rear of a truck, which was then driven in the direction of Prizren. Three injured persons, thrown in among the dead bodies, jumped out of the truck en route to Prizren. Human remains of the BERISHA killings have since been recovered at two locations; the first at a firing range site in Prizren municipality and the second being a mass grave site at the SAJ training centre at Batajnica, near Belgrade, Serbia. On or about 2 May 1999, forces of the FRY and Serbia attacked several villages north-east of the town of Vučitrn/Vushtrri including Skrovna/Skromë, Slakovce/Sllakofc, Ceceli/Cecelija and Gornja Sudimlja/Studime e Epërme. The villagers were forced out of their homes, and many of their houses, shops and religious sites were completely burnt. They were subsequently forced into a convoy of approximately 20,000 people travelling on the "Studime Gorge" road, in the direction of the town of Vučitrn/Vushtrri. In the course of these actions, forces of the FRY and Serbia harassed, beat and robbed Kosovo Albanians travelling in the convoy and killed approximately 104 Kosovo Albanians. (Those persons killed who are known by name are set forth in Schedule I, which is attached as an appendix to this indictment.)
- j. On or about 22 May 1999, in the early morning hours, a uniformed person in the Dubrava/Dubravë Prison complex (Istok/Istog municipality) announced from a watchtower that all prisoners were to gather their personal belongings and line up on the sports field at the prison complex for transfer to the prison in Niš, Serbia. Within a very short time, hundreds of prisoners had gathered at the sports field with bags of personal belongings and lined up in rows to await transport. Without warning, forces of the FRY and Serbia opened fire on the prisoners from the watchtower, from holes in the perimeter wall and from gun emplacements beyond the wall. Many prisoners were killed outright and others wounded.
- (i) On or about 23 May 1999, forces of the FRY and Serbia threw grenades and shot into the drains, sewers, buildings and basements, killing and wounding many additional prisoners who had sought refuge in those locations after the events of the previous day. Altogether, approximately 50 prisoners were killed. (Many of the murdered prisoners remain unidentified, however, the names of those persons who are known to have been killed are set forth in Schedule J, which is attached as an appendix to this indictment.)

During this action 4 men were killed. In addition, 4 members of the Qorri family were killed while trying to escape toward the woods. - 77. Beginning on or about 1 January 1999 and continuing until 20 June 1999, the forces of the FRY and Serbia, acting at the direction, with the encouragement, or with the support of MILAN MILUTINOVIĆ, NIKOLA ŠAINOVIĆ, DRAGOLJUB OJDANIĆ, NEBOJŠA PAVKOVIĆ, VLADIMIR LAZAREVIĆ, Vlastimir Dorđević and SRETEN LUKIĆ, utilised the means and methods set forth in paragraphs 25 through 32 to execute a campaign of persecution against the Kosovo Albanian population, including Kosovo Albanian civilians based on political, racial, or religious grounds. Each of the accused intended to discriminate against the Kosovo Albanian population on political, racial or religious grounds or was aware of the substantial likelihood that the forces of the FRY and Serbia would perpetrate the crimes set forth in paragraphs 25 through 32 against the Kosovo Albanian population on political, racial, or religious grounds, as is evident from, among other things, the overwhelming predominance of Kosovo Albanians of Muslim faith among the victims of crimes and the widespread use of terms derogatory to Kosovo Albanians. These persecutions included, but were not limited to, the following means:

- d. The wanton destruction or damage of Kosovo Albanian religious sites. During and after the attacks on the towns and villages, forces of FRY and Serbia systematically damaged and destroyed cultural monuments and Muslim sacred sites. - 78. At all times relevant to this indictment, a state of armed conflict existed in Kosovo in the FRY.

BACKGROUND AND CONTEXT FOR THE ALLEGATIONS

- 80. Kosovo is located in the southern part of the Republic of Serbia, a constituent republic of Serbia and Montenegro ("SCG"). The territory now comprising SCG was part of the Socialist Federal Republic of Yugoslavia ("SFRY"). Kosovo is bordered on the north and north-west by the Republic of Montenegro, on the south-west by the Republic of Albania ("Albania"), and to the south by the Former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia ("Macedonia"). The capital of Kosovo is Priština/Prishtinë.
- 81. In the 1981 census, the last census with near universal participation, the total population of Kosovo was approximately 1,585,000 of which 77% were Albanians and 13% were Serbs. Kosovo Albanians boycotted the census administered in 1991, but general estimates about the population during the period relevant to this indictment suggest that it was approximately 85-90% Kosovo Albanian and 5-10% Serb.

- In 1974, a new SFRY Constitution provided for a devolution of power 82. from the central government to the six constituent republics of the country. Within Serbia. Kosovo and Vojvodina were given considerable autonomy including control of their educational systems, judiciary, and police. They were represented in the Assembly, the Constitutional Court, and the Presidency of the SFRY.
- 83. During the 1980s, Serbs voiced concern about discrimination against them by the Kosovo Albanian-led provincial government while Kosovo Albanians expressed concern about economic underdevelopment and called for greater political liberalisation and republican status for Kosovo. From 1981 onwards, Kosovo Albanians staged demonstrations which were suppressed by SFRY military and police forces of Serbia.
- On 24 April 1987, Slobodan Milošević, who had been elected Chairman of 84. the Presidium of the Central Committee of the League of Communists of Serbia in 1986, travelled to Kosovo. In meetings with local Serb leaders and in a speech before a crowd of Serbs, Slobodan Milošević endorsed a Serbian nationalist agenda. Thereafter, Slobodan Milošević exploited a growing wave of Serbian nationalism in order to strengthen centralised rule in the SFRY.

- In early 1989, the SFRY government launched a process aimed at stripping Kosovo of the autonomy it had gained under the 1974 constitution. Due to the political unrest, in February 1989, the SFRY Presidency declared that the situation in Kosovo had deteriorated and had become a threat to the constitution, integrity, and sovereignty of the country and imposed "special measures" reassigning responsibility for public security from the provincial government of Kosovo to the government of the SFRY. This prompted massive demonstrations by Kosovo Albanians.
- 86. In July 1990, the Assembly of Serbia passed a decision suspending the Assembly of Kosovo shortly after 114 of the 123 Kosovo Albanian delegates from that Assembly passed an unofficial resolution declaring Kosovo an equal and independent entity within the SFRY. In September 1990, many of these same Kosovo Albanian delegates proclaimed a constitution for a "Republic of Kosovo." One year later, in September 1991, Kosovo Albanians held an unofficial referendum in which they voted overwhelmingly for independence. On 24 May 1992, Kosovo Albanians held unofficial elections for an assembly and president for the "Republic of Kosovo."
- Slobodan Milošević was elected President of the Presidency of the 87. Socialist Republic of Serbia on 8 May 1989. Following the adoption of the new Constitution of Serbia and multi-party elections, he was elected President of Serbia on 26 December 1990, and re-elected to this post on 20 December 1992. In December 1991, NIKOLA ŠAINOVIĆ was appointed a Deputy Prime Minister of Serbia.
- 88. The political situation in Kosovo became increasingly divisive following the first moves to revoke Kosovo's autonomy, and the imposition of "special measures". Serbia took complete control of Kosovo's police, courts, as well as its educational, social and economic policy and the choice of official language in the region. Throughout late 1990 and 1991 thousands of Kosovo Albanian doctors,

- 89. On 16 July 1990, the League of Communists of Serbia and the Socialist Alliance of Working People of Serbia joined to form the SPS and Slobodan Milošević was elected its President. MILAN MILUTINOVIĆ and NIKOLA ŠAINOVIĆ both held prominent positions within the SPS. Slobodan Milošević used the SPS majority in the federal and republic assemblies to pass legislation in furtherance of nationalist policies in Kosovo and relied on loyal members chosen from among the SPS main board including MILAN MILUTINOVIĆ and NIKOLA ŠAINOVIĆ—to implement his policies in Kosovo.
- 90. During this period, the unofficial Kosovo Albanian leadership pursued a policy of non-violent civil resistance and began establishing a system of unofficial, parallel institutions in the health care and education sectors.
- 91. Beginning in June 1991, the SFRY began to disintegrate in a succession of wars fought in the Republic of Slovenia, the Republic of Croatia, and Bosnia and Herzegovina. While the wars were being conducted in Slovenia, Croatia and Bosnia and Herzegovina, the situation in Kosovo, while tense, did not erupt into the violence and intense fighting seen in the other countries. Nevertheless, many of the patterns of criminal conduct observed in those conflicts were seen again in Kosovo during the period covered by this Indictment. Active hostilities ceased with the signing of the Dayton peace agreement in December 1995. The status of Kosovo was not on the Dayton agenda.
- 92. In the mid-1990s, a faction of the Kosovo Albanians organised a group known as Ushtria Çlirimtare e Kosovës (UÇK) or, known in English as the Kosovo Liberation Army ("KLA"). This group advocated a campaign of armed insurgency and violent resistance to the Serbian authorities, and was the principle Kosovo Albanian organised, armed group conducting operations against forces of the FRY and Serbia.
- 93. In mid-1996, the KLA began launching attacks primarily targeting Serbian police forces, but also at Albanians loyal to the Serbian authorities. In 1996 and 1997, the KLA only consisted of a small group of people who were poorly armed, disorganised, and distributed in small groups with its leadership abroad. Thereafter, and throughout 1997, Serbian police forces responded with forceful operations against suspected KLA bases and supporters in Kosovo and persecution of Kosovo Albanian civilians intensified. The collapse of law and order in neighbouring Albania in 1997 resulted in a greater flow of weapons to the KLA. By 1998, the KLA grew to a group of several thousand members and became more active.
- 94. In late February 1998, the conflict intensified between the KLA and the forces of the FRY and Serbia. The forces of the FRY and Serbia engaged in a campaign against the KLA in the course of which they applied excessive and indiscriminate force against Kosovo Albanian civilians. In February and March, in clashes with the KLA in the Drenica area, forces of the FRY and Serbia shelled predominantly Kosovo Albanian towns and villages and expelled residents from their homes. In early March, forces of the FRY and Serbia attacked the village of Donji Prekaze/Prekazi i Pshtem (Srbica/Skenderaj municipality), killing around 50 people, including most of the family members of Adem Jashari, women, children and the elderly._Around Easter, the old part of the village of Dečani / Deçan was destroyed by forces of the FRY and Serbia.

- In mid-July 1998, the forces of the FRY and Serbia launched a large-scale 95. offensive operation throughout the province of Kosovo. This involved, inter alia, brigades of the Priština Corps and special units of the MUP. At the end of July, heavy shelling causing wanton destruction was reported in the area of Dulje / Duhel, Blace, Junik and Mališevo / Malishevë. Around 5 and 6 August, operations were conducted in the area of Drenica, Junik and Jablanica. Most villages along the Peć-Priština / Peja Prishtina road and along the Gornia Klina-Rudnik-Rakoš / Klina e Epërm – Rudnik - Rakosh road were wantonly destroyed. By the end of September, forces of the FRY and Serbia had shelled and burned down about half of the villages in Dečani / Deçan, and had razed the village of Prilep / Prelep to the ground with heavy artillery. Representatives of the international community who were visiting the province at the time observed ongoing shelling and burning of villages by forces of the FRY and Serbia in the Suva Reka / Suha Reka valley. On 26 September, in the course of an anti-terrorist operation in and around the compound of the Delijaj family in Gornje Dobrinie / Dobrinia e Epërm, forces of the FRY and Serbia killed 21 members of this family, among them women and children. on the expectations for the property and the contract to a
- As a result of the use of excessive and indiscriminate force by the forces of the FRY and Serbia, many Kosovo Albanian residents were displaced within Kosovo or fled the province. From approximately February 1998 until May 1998, approximately 15,000 Kosovo Albanians fled to Northern Albania. By mid-October, the United Nations estimated that approximately 285,000 persons, roughly fifteen percent of the population, had been internally displaced within Kosovo or had left the province. By the end of 1998 and up to 23 March 1999, some 349,000 Kosovo Albanians were displaced.
- 97. From at least March 1998 onwards, the United Nations, human rights organizations such as Human Rights Watch, foreign diplomats, the OSCE, domestic and international media, and Kosovo Albanian leaders publicly and repeatedly condemned the use of excessive and indiscriminate force by the forces of the FRY and Serbia in resolutions and reports, and in meetings with the civilian and military leadership of the FRY and Serbia. At least between the end of July and the end of October 1998, Joint Command meetings dealing with the situation in Kosovo were held in Priština / Prishtina on an almost daily basis.

- 98. In an attempt to defuse tensions in Kosovo, negotiations between Slobodan Milošević and representatives of the international community were conducted in October 1998. These negotiations resulted in a number of agreements being signed. An "Agreement on the OSCE Kosovo Verification Mission" was signed on 16 October 1998. On 25 October 1998, NIKOLA ŠAINOVIĆ and Vlastimir Dorđević signed agreements on behalf of the FRY and Serbia respectively. These agreements provided for the partial withdrawal of forces of the FRY and Serbia from Kosovo, a limitation on the introduction of additional forces and equipment into the area, and the deployment of unarmed OSCE verifiers.
- 99. In a further response to the continuing conflict in Kosovo, an international peace conference was organised in Rambouillet and Paris, France beginning on 6 February 1999. NIKOLA ŠAINOVIĆ was the political head of the Serbian delegation at Rambouillet. MILAN MILUTINOVIĆ was also present during the negotiations. - of Kosovo Albanian political and civic leaders. During the peace negotiations in France, the violence in Kosovo continued. In late February and early March, forces of the FRY and Serbia launched a series of offensives against dozens of predominantly Kosovo Albanian villages and towns. The peace talks collapsed in mid-March 1999.
- On 24 March 1999, NATO began launching air strikes against targets in the FRY. The FRY issued decrees of an imminent threat of war on 23 March 1999 and a state of war on 24 March 1999. After the air strikes commenced, forces of the FRY and Serbia intensified their widespread or systematic campaign and forcibly expelled hundreds of thousands of Kosovo Albanians from Kosovo.
- 101. On 3 June 1999, the FRY and Serbia accepted a document of principles towards a resolution of the crisis in Kosovo, which was presented to their representatives to the European Union and the Russian Federation. That document, which was followed by Security Council resolution 1244 (1999), provided for a political solution to the Kosovo crisis, including an immediate end to violence and a rapid withdrawal of forces of the FRY and Serbia and the deployment of international civil and security presence in Kosovo under United Nations auspices.
- 102. On 9 June 1999, the Military Technical Agreement was signed between NATO, and representatives of the VJ and the MUP, providing for the withdrawal of all forces of the FRY and Serbia from Kosovo. Under the terms of the Military Technical Agreement, the NATO bombing campaign against targets in the FRY would terminate upon the complete withdrawal of forces of the FRY and Serbia. On 20 June 1999, KFOR, the Kosovo Force, announced that the withdrawal of forces of the FRY and Serbia from the territory of Kosovo was complete.
